DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Claims 13-15 and 19-22 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a nonelected invention, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Applicant timely traversed the restriction (election) requirement in the reply filed on July 12, 2004.

Claim Objections

2. Claims 1 and 2 are objected to because of the following informalities:

Regarding claim 1, on line 7, it appears that "first side tab" should be "first side projection tab".

Regarding claim 2, on lines 3 and 4, it appears that "first side tab" should be "first side projection tabs" and "second side tab" should be "second side projection tab".

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 1-7, 12, 16-18 and 23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Gebhardt.

Gebhardt discloses a display comprising a base sheet 45 having at least one first side projection tab 46 along a first side of the base sheet 45 and at least one second side projection tab

Art Unit: 3611

46 along a second side of the base sheet; a first frame member 24 having a base-connection channel 30 connectable with the at least one first side projection tab 46, wherein the at least one first side tab 46 is resilient and allows the at least one first side projection tab 46 to snap-fit into the first frame base connection channel 30 during insertion of the at least one first side projection tab in a direction substantially perpendicular to a length of the first frame base-connection channel 30; a second frame member 24 having a base-connection channel 30 connectable with the at least one second side projection tab 46, wherein the at least one second side projection tab 46 is resilient and allows the at least one second side projection tab 46 to snap-fit into the second frame base connection channel 30 during insertion of the at least one second side projection tab 46 in a direction substantially perpendicular to a length of the second frame base-connection channel 24, and information media including indicia and/or graphics.

Regarding claim 4, the channels 30 comprise media-support channels.

Regarding claim 5, see Fig. 3, and note the unlabelled supporting wires.

Regarding claim 6, see column 3, lines 48-50.

Regarding claim 12, see Fig. 1, part 22.

Regarding claim 17, the base sheet disclosed by Gebhardt is meant to be replaceable. A base sheet having different indicia would constitute a base sheet having a different characteristic.

Regarding claim 18, see Fig. 1. Part 22 constitutes a means of supporting additional display elements.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

Art Unit: 3611

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claims 8-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Gebhardt.

Gebhardt discloses the invention substantially as claimed, as set forth above. However, it is not known what material is contemplated for the fabrication of the base sheet. Because it is within the level of ordinary skill of a worker in the art to select from among known materials on the basis of their suitability for the fabrication of a given device, and since a person having ordinary skill in the art would know that plastic (claim 8) or paper (claim 10) would be suitable for the fabrication of a base sheet, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to fabricate the base sheet disclosed by Gebhardt from plastic or paper as a matter of choice in design, based on such factors as cost and availability of the materials to the designer.

Response to Arguments

7. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-12, 16-18 and 23 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

8. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
